PICTURE OF THE WEEK

Hey everyone. Got some exciting news: J.A. Steel, director of the very entertaining DENIZEN (see my review here), is working on her new film titled BLOOD FARE. Here's the plot summary from the press released [BLOOD FARE] is a Civil War ghost story with a modern twist, with filming in Utah, Washington, DC and Northern Virginia. It is the story of Corporal Henry Trout (S. Edward Meek), who in 1861 fought valiantly in a forgotten skirmish after the first battle of Bull Run. In 2011, he will come face to face with his descendants as the battle for blood continues on a haunted battlefield. Tyler and her brother Chad, Henry's fifth generation grandchildren, will challenge the very legend of Charon the Ferryman, as the lines between the living and the dead become blurred.

Steel has a great director's eye and pulled off one helluva fun movie with DENIZEN. Check out the Director's Reel for BLOOD FARE ... it sure looks like she has a bigger budget witch will most surely only mean more blood, more action, and more fun. Here's the Director's Reel:

BOOK OF THE WEEK

This is an awesome "attacking alien" book and involves a "dome-over-the-city" idea long before King's Under the Dome!!

Looks pretty damn exciting to me. But the news gets even better for Steel and her new production. Let me quote the press release again:

On August 26, 2010, J.A. Steel, the award winning female writer and director, announced the attachment of Gil Gerard, internationally recognized for his lead role as Captain William 'Buck' Rogers in the science fiction movie and television series BUCK ROGERS IN THE 25th CENTURY, to her fourth feature film BLOOD FARE.

Ok; I know what you're thinking: "Big deal. She got a guy who was in a TV show a million years ago to star in her new one." First off eat me for being so cynical. Second off Gil Gerard is having a bit of a career resurgence lately. Gerard was just recently in the SyFy original flick GHOST TOWN (2009) and will soon be starring in the upcoming TV movie BUCK ROGERS BEGINS. I for one am excited to see Gil Gerard in a genre movie, especially an indie one. I grew up watching Gerard in BUCK ROGERS and am looking forward to all his new projects; especially BLOOD FARE.

Oh but wait ... there's more great news:

Also, Chris Hanson, one of the most recognized special makeup effects artists in Hollywood has joined the crew of BLOOD FARE, as the Special Makeup Effects Supervisor. He demonstrated his unique creativity in HELLBOY, UNDERWORLD, MEN IN BLACK, MEN IN BLACK 2, THE GREEN MILE, THE X-FILES, THE FACULTY, SPAWN and many other productions.

Here's a little something for the ladies: Gil Gerard!!

Director, producer, actor, stunt coordinator, and all around bad ass ... J.A. Steel!!

Well known actors and a kick ass special f/x guy; it sure sounds like all these "names" attaching themselves to Steel's new project really says something about J.A. Steel herself. You can tell she's a passionate filmmaker who loves what she does and loves integrating her other passions into all her projects. She's also an accomplished stunt woman, cave diver, motorcycle driver, and an expert in Muay Thai kickboxing. This woman fucking ROCKS!!

Learn more about Steel's new film at <http://bloodfare.warriorentertainment.com> and follow her on Twitter (@JASsteel & @DENIZENmovie). The press release notes that more talent will be announced in the next few weeks so stay tuned and I'll keep you all up to date on what promises to be a kick ass movie from a kick ass indie horror director!!

Stay Bloody!!!
