Tasty new poster for Blood Fare by J. A. Steel

With previous ventures such as creature feature 'Denizen,' writer-director-Muay Thai kickboxer J. A. Steel and co-producer Christian K. Koch have demonstrated an ability to deliver maximum whoopass on a micro budget. This trend looks set to continue with their latest movie 'Blood Fare,' to judge by the latest press releases and the diabolically good poster.

The epic story sees a soldier from the American Civil War rising from his grave to be reunited with his descendants, brother and sister Chad (Adrian West) and Tyler (the lovely Brandi Lynn Anderson.) On hand to mentor them through the grisly consequences are a pair of rugged professors, played by action star Kim Sonderholm ('Little Big Boy') and 80s s-f icon Gil Gerard ('Buck Rogers in the 25th Century.')

This last piece of casting alone is enough to grant 'Blood Fare' instant cult status for those of us who still have our Buck Rogers annuals hidden in the loft.

Joining an eclectic cast is some fine behind-the-scenes talent, most notably cinematographer Michael B. Call ('127 Hours') and Special Make-up Effects Supervisor Chris Hanson, whose impressive list of credits includes 'Hellboy' and 'Underworld.' For an example of what Hanson brings to the table, take a look at the awesome laughing skull towards the end of Blood Fare's video teaser.
